

Event Sales & Marketing Services

Strategies that promote your value and popularity while increasing associate members and prospects.

SOCIAL NETWORKING & VIRAL MARKETING

ConferenceDirect would locate digital opportunities to promote your meeting. We develop messaging for placement within blogs and other electronic venues to create awareness and enthusiasm about your program.

WEBSITE DEVELOPMENT/ENHANCEMENT

ConferenceDirect works with your personnel to revamp messaging on your website and/or create micro-sites to increase the visibility of your event among core stakeholder groups. The site(s) serve as a portal to which all marketing activities will drive prospective attendees.

BROADCAST EMAIL

ConferenceDirect searches for available third-party lists for distribution of broadcast email to promote your event. We create messaging and if needed, distribute the emails.

PRINT ADVERTISING

ConferenceDirect identifies print and digital advertising opportunities and venues to help promote your event. We write messaging for the ads as well as coordinate production and placement.

GOOGLE ADWORD CAMPAIGN

ConferenceDirect identifies keyword combinations and corresponding AdWord campaigns to run during the months prior to the annual meeting to get in front of audiences seeking such programs. Expenses would be minimal based on click-throughs to your site.

Event Sales & Marketing Services

DIRECT MAIL

ConferenceDirect procures lists, writes copy, and coordinates production and distribution of direct mail to audiences of qualified prospects.

MEDIA RELATIONS

ConferenceDirect assembles lists of journalists, writes and distributes press releases, and manages inquiries to build visibility and media exposure.

STRATEGIC ALLIANCES

ConferenceDirect, with your direction, will seek opportunities to co-brand your event with related organizations. This could involve placement of information on their websites, being listed on a calendar of events, or any other number of potential partnerships.
